DAKIN'S
PURE VOLATILE
EUCALYPTUS OIL,
DISTILLED FROM THE LEAVES OF SELECTED
SPECIES OF THE EUCALYPTUS.

EUCALYPTUS OIL has long taken a foremost place as a "household remedy" in Australia. When applied externally it has a powerful stimulating and soothing action, but does not irritate the most sensitive skin, and no application known will so quickly subdue the pain of muscular rheumatism.

Taken internally in small doses, it acts as a powerful stimulant and antispasmodic, whilst its secondary action induces sleep.

The penetrating agreeable vapor of the Oil is sedative, and when inhaled relieves Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh and Sore Throat.

It is also a most powerful antiseptic and germicide, being three times as effective as Carbolic Acid in preventing development of Bacteria, its uses in this direction being very numerous.

The active properties of the Oil depend upon a Terpene called Eucalyptol, and we guarantee this Oil, prepared especially for us, to contain the largest obtainable percentage of Eucalyptol and twice that of the ordinary Eucalyptus Oil of commerce.

It can be used with great benefit in all Throat and Lung Affections, and its sedative stimulating properties make it an invaluable application in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, &c., whilst its powerful antiseptic and germicide action is well exhibited as a dressing in Wounds, Ulcers, Burns, Scalds, Sores, Ringworm, &c.

Dakin's specially refined Oil is sold in 2 oz. and 4 oz. bottles at 5s. and 10s. Full Directions for use enclosed with each bottle.

CAUTION.

Inferior samples of Eucalyptus Oil distilled from any kind of Eucalyptus leaf have little or no medicinal action and should be carefully avoided.

"THE HONGKONG TELEGRAPH" Office,
Raffles Hill,
Hongkong, January 1891.

NOTICES TO CORRESPONDENTS.

It is requested that all communications relating to Subscriptions, Advertisements, &c., be addressed to the "Manager, Hongkong Telegraph," and sent to "The Editor" and not to individual members of the staff.

Communications intended for publication must be accompanied by the name and address of the writer, not necessarily for publication, but as evidence of good faith.

While the columns of the Hongkong Telegraph will always be open for the free discussion by correspondents of all questions affecting public interests, it must be distinctly understood that the Editor does not in any way hold himself responsible for opinions thus expressed.

TO ADVERTISERS.
Advertisers are requested to forward all notices intended for insertion in this paper, not later than Three o'clock on the day prior to the day of publication of the paper.

Advertisements and Subscriptions which are not ordered for a fixed period will be continued until countermanded.

The Hongkong Telegraph has the largest circulation of any English newspaper published in the Far East, and is therefore the best medium for Advertisements. Terms can be learnt on application to the Manager, Hongkong Telegraph, at the Telephone Central Exchange No. 1.

TO SUBSCRIBERS.
The Hongkong Telegraph is published daily at 5.30 p.m. Subscribers in the central districts who do not receive their copies before 6.30 will be obliged by once communicating with the Manager.

Subscribers to the Hongkong Telegraph are respectfully reminded that all Subscriptions are payable in advance.

tory, too good for the vast majority of the people he had to govern, is probably true enough, but that he was a gross failure where the real question of Hongkong's best interests were concerned admits of no doubt whatever. And it would actually seem that, not contented with the mischief he created while here, he must needs continue the campaign after having been finally shelved. The Unofficial members of the Legislative Council and the Committee of the Chamber of Commerce should at once take active measures to officially expose this ridiculous fiction as to Hongkong's position as a commercial port, and place the colony in its proper place, otherwise an increased military, or naval, or some other equally iniquitous and uncalled-for "squeeze" will be tried on at the earliest possible opportunity. Notwithstanding the windy platitudes and involved fiscal speculations of Mr. Colonial Treasurer MITCHELL-LENN, on the wonderful possibilities of a greatly enhanced opium revenue, Hongkong at the present time is as near as possible hopelessly insolvent. And the end is not yet.

This is a decided improvement on former cleanings up. The mill has been kept steady at work since.

THE bacillus of tuberculosis, says Nature, is often to be found in places lived in by consumptives. Herr Frausnitz has lately collected the dust in various compartments of trains which contain many patients from Berlin to Meran, and inoculated a number of guinea-pigs with it. Two out of five compartments so examined were found to contain the bacillus; the dust of one rendered three out of four guinea-pigs tuberculous, that of the other, two.

THE same sad, sorrowful, old story. The chief officer in the bark of Van Diemen's Land smash are lone widows, poor orphans, and impoverished old ladies, and this while certain high officials and particular pets were allowed to overdraw to the tune of £10,000, £20,000 and even up to £50,000. To give some idea of how recklessly the old ship was allowed to drift on to the rocks, the overdraft account of one new customer of the Bank was opened with a 2s. 6d. debit for a pass-book! Can we beat this record in Hongkong? Time will show—if we haven't beaten it already.

CHAN YUNG and Sam Shing, two tailors, were charged on remand before Mr. Wise this morning with cutting and wounding a cobbler named Leung Choi. It appears that on the 11th inst. the defendants (who live on the floor above the shoe-maker) were having a gay time, which caused a lot of trouble to tell from the ceiling amongst the boots that were on show in Mr. Choi's shop. He went aloft and remonstrated with them in a friendly way but the ungrateful snips did not desire his presence, and immediately made for him with iron bars, swords and scissors, the consequence being that the poor leather pounder was sent to hospital where he remained ten days. Mr. Wise fined them $10 each and not having that amount, they are sent to the lock-up to worry akum for a month.

THERE was only a limited attendance at the Theatre Royal, City Hall, last night to witness the performance by Mr. Willard's Opera Company of the much talked of farcical comedy "The Balloon." And there was nothing in the representation to call for extended criticism. Mr. Willard as Dr. Glynn, and Mr. Harry Hall as Mr. Aubrey St. John were in every way admirable, and at times Miss Vera showed to advantage as Mrs. Rippindale, but the others—well, they weren't in it exactly, and the exhibition they gave strongly suggested that a few more rehearsals and a wider acquaintance with what they were trying to do would have improved matters considerably. On Saturday next the Company will appear in "The Gondoliers," and as this comic opera should fit them down to the ground, added to the interesting fact that a number of local amateurs will take part in the show, we shall be greatly disappointed if there is not a crowded house.

At a special meeting of the Yokohama electric light company recently, the committee appointed for the purpose of enquiring into the irregularities in the books, &c., of the concern, reported the result of their investigations. Their report shows a woeful state of affairs in the Company. The subscribed capital is $150,000, of which $121,855.60 is paid up. The debts of the Company amount to $52,724.25, and the average expenses of the concern are $1,649.73 per month, besides $453.16 monthly interest, giving a total expenditure of $2,000.00 per month. The company recently received only $994.50 per month. The Company is thus losing over $1,000 every month, which, it is said, no prospect of the Company eventually maintaining itself, and the meeting considered the best method of carrying on the concern. No decision, however, was come to. So says the Nagasaki Biji.

We read in a home paper devoted to shipping interests that the Austro-Hungarian Lloyd's of Trieste, has ordered a new steamer from a shipbuilding and engineering firm at Low Walker-on-Tyne, and it is said that contracts are being negotiated for two or three more steamers for the same Company.

In the Singapore Supreme Court an important marine insurance case, in which Messrs. Behr & Co. claimed for sea-damage to a cargo of petroleum, the Singapore Insurance Co. maintaining that the damage was caused by "sweating" was concluded the other day, judgment being given for the defendant Company.

THE defects in the machinery of H.M.S. Pallas proved so extensive that she was not expected to be ready for sea until the 24th Sept. when after two hours' steam trial and a general inspection she was to sail for the China Station. She is, says the Army and Navy Gazette, a pretty little ship, is looking particularly well, and, under Captain Angus McLeod, should have a very comfortable commission.

CORRESPONDENCE.

[We do not necessarily endorse the opinions expressed by Correspondents in this column.]

ANOTHER MASON IN THE FIELD.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "HONGKONG TELEGRAPH."
SIR.—As your paper is particularly given to straightforwardness and bold declaration of views, permit me, in default of other means of speaking out, as the most honest course and in hopes that others will follow my example, to announce that I wish to join the Kolos Hul.

My reasons are so simple that I am surprised they have not been many to adopt them, and the foreign Governments to show some favour to the movement.

(1) China is badly governed. Her administration is in such a state of chronic chaos, so constantly condemned by everybody who encounters it in any of its innumerable and unconscionable tortuousities, that I need not dwell on it.

(2) The Chinese national character is so unalterable and so crystallized that there is practically no prospect of amelioration. The millennium will have to leave China out.

(3) In any violent civil convulsion, however circumstanced, the Europeans now on hand will be able to get in. This is really the only chance, such as it is, of improvement.

Those are, briefly, the incontrovertible arguments in behalf of a revolution in China. Of course, there are very many features to be considered, and my only doubt is that I may overlook some vital point. But it must be safe to assert that the Kolos society will put a very high value on European aid and Chinese aid. Then, by offering all the assistance possible (and that is saying a good deal) the European section of the revolutionary party could to a reasonable extent make their own terms. On that depends the extent to which I will go. My suggestions would be—

(1) Avoid treaty ports entirely. There is plenty of room to raise Cain in strictly Chinese quarters, and the reform party must abandon the foolish move of attacking the Government through the foreigners. Thus we at once enlist foreign sympathy.

(2) All foreigners beyond treaty limits must have notice to quit. Give fair warning, and then they must take the consequences of their own conduct.

(3) A definite plan of reform must be drawn up and subscribed by the leaders of the Society, adopted by all adherents, and formally laid before the Emperor and his advisers. If granted, a peaceful revolution will have been accomplished; such as might well receive the support of all foreigners. If refused, we must do as all reformers have done. We have the people with us, and a people have always the right to assert themselves.

It is more than I can do alone to develop the programme in detail, but with a few good men it would not be difficult to secure so much men as that the reform party's demands should be entertained, their justice recognized and urged on the Emperor by his own advisers and the friendly Powers. It all depends on the extent to which foreigners will openly express what in private they feel.

In now appealing to all white men to aid in this bloodless revolution, I am aware that the question arises—what if it fails? If negotiations are unsuccessful, and the members of the Kolos European and Chinese are declared traitors? If the Society is concerned and compelled to defend itself by force? The answer is—that at the point where violence begins—the recent riots being dissociated from what I am now discussing—at this point, Europeans must cease active connection with the Society, or if they continue, as a few might, they take their chances, knowing that they are at once outlawed; they declare war against China, and with the Kolos sink or swim.

October 3rd.

Mr. Gladstone, addressing a meeting yesterday, said he was convinced that a Liberal victory was approaching. The British occupation of Egypt was a cause of weakness, and he would rejoice if Lord Salisbury, before the overthrow of the Government, would settle the question, but the Government would probably bequeath it to its successors.

He also said it better to defer the decision of the House of Lords, and advised a great effort being made by the Liberal party to extend labour representation in the House of Commons. Parliament, he said, must charge election expenses to the rates. In conclusion he urged the Liberals to exercise great caution before imposing compulsory limitation of the hours of labour.

THE FOREIGN DEFENCE IN TIENTSIN.

We have received from the North the following report, issued by the Defence Committee, on the measures adopted for the security of the foreign residents in Tientsin in the event of any Chinese insurrection or riots:

1. At the public meeting held in the Gordon Hall on Saturday, the 26th September, a Defence Committee, consisting of Messrs. Buchhalter, Doring, de Fleurance, Griffor, Hosoya, Kingsley, Matland, Mickle, Pichler, Poutlat, Richter, and Starck, was appointed "to mature and decide upon the measures to be taken (subject to the endorsement of the British and French municipalities) in defence of life and property in the Foreign Settlement, in case of a riot."

2. In obedience to this mandate the Committee met at the close of the public meeting and at once selected from their number three experienced military officers: Colonel Poutlat, Major Richter, and Captain de Fleurance, and requested them to consider plans of protection suited to the circumstances. This has been done, and a "General Scheme of Defence," in English, authorized by the signature of Major Richter, was placed in the hands of the Committee on September 30th.

3. The contingency which would justify and necessitate the foreign residents taking up arms in their own defence is to be hoped, is very remote; but the precautions must nevertheless be made as perfect as possible under the circumstances, and as an original object was to be met. The community is fortunate in having no less than four military experts in the settlement who are willing to give their invaluable advice and active assistance in the defence.

4. It is no cell of patriotism we have to respond to, the efficiency of the force by nationalities being merely for the convenience of command; nor are we a detachment of troops entrusted with the keeping of all sorts of an important military position. We have no to make sacrifices in defence of ticks and mortar, or of goods and services, save only subordinate matters. Such considerations might even tend to breed differences among us. We are banded together for one object—the defence of that which no pecuniary compensation could ever bring back, the lives of ourselves and our families. For that, alone, we must stand and fight, to the last man; and it is on this as a general pivot that all the measures of the Defence Committee and the Military Committee must be understood to turn. It is this also which assures us of complete success under any circumstances likely to arise.

5. The chief command of the military forces of defence has been undertaken by Colonel Poutlat, with Major Richter, Captain de Fleurance and Commander Hosoya in command of the different positions.

6. The force enrolls 3 numbers 148, of whom not more than 12 may be classed as non-combatant. For convenience the force has been grouped as follows:

(1) Russians and Americans (9 and 8 men respectively).....	17
(2) English (including 2 Danes).....	45
(3) French.....	15
(4) German.....	37
(5) Japanese.....	15
(6) Customs.....	10
	148

7. As the members of the force will receive their orders from their respective Commanders, or the Commander-in-Chief, it is not necessary to enter into details here, but only to inform the residents, generally, of the nature of the measures concerted for the common safety, so as to prevent confusion should the time come to put them in force.

8. The area to be included in the first line of defence will be from the French Consulate to the Custom House, along the Felling and Hain Yuan Roads to the Temperance Hall; thence along the Taku Road, to Meadows Road and to the Bund. The system of barricades at different points is detailed in the Scheme of Defence.

9. The defence of positions has been allotted to the various sections of the force, in the first instance, as follows:

The right wing, from Messrs. A. S. Watson & Co. to the French Consulate will be defended by the English, French, and the Customs Corps, under the command of Captain de Fleurance.

The left wing, from Messrs. Collins & Co. to the Temperance Hall will be defended by the Germans, under the command of Major Richter, and the Japanese under Commander Hosoya.

The Russians and Americans, with missionaries and other gentlemen not grouped in the above sections, will form the Reserve, at the Town Hall.

These arrangements, however, being necessarily subject to modifications, can only be taken as provisional.

10. The Intelligence Department, under the direction of Mr. Doring, Chairman of the British Municipal Council, assisted by Mr. W. N. Pichler, will be formed in the Town Hall, where all reports and information will be received and sifted, and their value judged; and all necessary communications made to the military commanders.

11. Residents should keep their arms and ammunition ready in their houses, and on the signal of alarm being given they should repair at once to their respective posts.

12. In case of alarm the following signal will be made:

Two buglers will make the round of the settlement and sound the alarm; the bells of all churches will be rung continuously; a red flag will be displayed from the Town Hall by day, and a red lamp by night, when three rockets also will be fired.

13. On the alarm being given all women and children will repair at once to the Town Hall, where every comfort, medical and other, will be provided that may be possible under the circumstances.

14. When residents abandon their houses they should see that all entrances are close and barricaded.

15. In case of fire occurring within the military lines, the force will be called out to guard the approaches to the settlement and prevent crowds collecting. The Fire Alarm will be: Gongs rapidly beaten through the streets. There will be no occasion for families to leave their houses as in the case of a general alarm.

16. It would be desirable, if possible, that the occupants of houses on either side Victoria Road should provide means of communication from one compound to another parallel to the street, so as to admit of the force while leaving the street itself clear for artillery fire.

17. In addition to the military and other precautions above referred to the residents may be further assured that such diplomatic resources as are at the disposal of the Committee for the maintenance of peace have not been, and will not be, neglected.

18. Finally, the Committee have perfect confidence in the efficacy of the defence, so long as the community remains united.

By order of the Defence Committee,

G. DETRING, Chairman.

A. MICHIE, Hon. Secretary.

THE JELEBU COMPANY.

The fourth ordinary general meeting of the shareholders of the Jelebu Mining and Trading Company Limited, was held in the Exchange Rooms, Singapore on October 15th, for the purpose of receiving the directors' report and accounts for the half-year ending the 31st August.

Mr. Joaquin occupied the chair and there were present: Messrs. Hooper, Reid, and Heim, Directors; the Hon. G. S. Murray, and Messrs. Becker, Felchner, Graham, Ewell, Joaquin, Derrick, King, Dunman, Boyd, and others, shareholders.

The minutes of the last meeting, having been read and approved, the report and accounts already published, were taken as read. Mr. Joaquin then said:

"Gentlemen,—The Directors' report and accounts having been in your hands for some time, we will, with your permission, take them as read. I have nothing to add to that report; it is full and we have given you in detail everything we have done during the last half-year, and I have no doubt the shareholders will consider the accounts very satisfactory. There are only two points that I should like to refer to; first, as to our capital, you will see by the accounts that large sums of money are in fixed deposits in the Banks, and it has been said that these deposits may be better utilized by a reduction of the capital of the company. The directors are of opinion that such a course would be most inadvisable; you must remember we are procuring Australian miners, and we shall require our capital for the operation to be conducted by these Australians, and we also think it inadvisable to have money upon which we may fall back on emergency. The next point that I wish to refer to is the paragraph in the report with reference to the directors' remuneration; it is a personal question and we thought it right to point out to you how inadequately your directors are remunerated for their services. You must not think, gentlemen, that the directors' work is done by their meeting once a month at a table discussing matters. That is not so with us. Every correspondence between the agents and manager, and other persons are circulated amongst the directors. Sometimes once and sometimes twice a week, there are often very voluminous and one has to devote a considerable part of one's time to grapple with the facts, and to record one's opinion, with reference to the letters and subjects submitted. I have thought it right to explain this, so that you may take such action as you may deem advisable with reference to the directors' remuneration. With these remarks, I move that:—The directors' accounts be passed and, as recommended by them in their report, an interim dividend of 7 per cent. be paid for the last half-year.

Mr. G. S. Murray—I think that thanks are due to the directors of the Company for their very excellent report which has been issued to you, and which you have just taken as read. The Chairman in his speech has referred to the very paltry remuneration which the directors have drawn during the past half-year for attending to our interests in, I may say, a very careful and satisfactory way. I do not think any of us can, for a moment, say that the fee of $485 paid to the directors for their services in carrying the sum of $38,000 is adequate remuneration for the services rendered. The directors have benefited by their past experience in other companies and have brought that experience to bear in the interest of our Company and I think we ought to show our appreciation of their services in some substantial way. I beg therefore to bring forward two propositions:—

That in recognition of their past services a sum of one thousand dollars be paid to the Directors to be equally divided amongst them.

When that first resolution has been passed, I have another to bring forward.

That an extraordinary general meeting of the Company be held at the Registered Office of the Company on Friday the 23rd of October inst. at noon when the following resolution will be proposed:—

RESOLUTION.

That the articles of association be altered by the following words being substituted for the first sentence in Article 88 ending with the words "an additional $10" namely:—

"The remuneration of every director for his services shall be the sum of fifty dollars per month for every complete calendar month he continues in office."

The sum of fifty dollars may seem a large one, but, according to the Articles of Association, as they at present stand, the Directors, if they choose to do so, may have one meeting a week, get sixty dollars a month apiece so that we are really altering the wording of the Articles of Association, but not giving power to draw a larger amount of money; and I have always found in my experience that a fixed remuneration is better than so much a meeting, because it is far more satisfactory to the directors that they should be able to take home their papers, and so give their decisions at other times than those at which they are called together.

The motion was then seconded by Mr. Nathan.

Mr. Graham said that, before the motion was put, he would like to offer a few remarks by way of amendment without disparaging the directors. He thought the good results were in a measure due to their staff at Jelebu, and he thought that if the directors proposed a small bonus for them it would be for the good of the Company.

Mr. Reid pointed out that a percentage on dividends declared is given to the manager, and a new arrangement of a similar kind was under consideration for his assistant. On the dividend now declared Mr. Dunman would draw about $800 of bonus. The motion was then put to the meeting and carried unanimously.

The Chairman on behalf of the directors thanked the shareholders for having passed the resolution. It was gratifying for them to know that their services had been appreciated; and for himself and his brother directors he would say that so long as they remained on the board the interests of the company would be at heart.

Mr. G. S. Murray then moved that an extraordinary general meeting be held on Friday, 23rd instant, for the purpose of submitting the resolution of which he had given notice in the terms mentioned above.

Mr. Nathan seconded, and the motion was carried.

Mr. Reid further offered the remark that the bonus system to the manager was quite automatic in its action. The sum he would draw for bonus was already treated as a liability of the Company.

The Chairman having intimated that the coupons were payable at the New Oriental Bank this day, the meeting closed with the usual vote of thanks to the chairman.—Strait Times.

TIENTSIN.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

Tientsin, 12th October.

On the afternoon of the 10th instant a notification was issued under the heading of the "Imperial Chinese Railways and China Railway Company" as follows:—

"H. E. the Viceroy has this day consolidated the management of the Imperial Chinese Railway Company, and appointed Yang Taotai sole Managing Director, with special charges of finances and official matters."

"Mr. W. N. Pichler has been appointed Assistant Managing Director with control over the working staff and ordinary business of both lines."

"YANG HUNG-TIEN, Managing Director."

W. N. PICHLER, Assistant Managing Director."

A Chinese telegram was received yesterday to the effect that the Viceroy of Nanking has selected (Tsun-ku) Mr. Ma Kie To-chong's property for account of monies due by him to the C. M. S. N. Co. If this telegram is correct, and the Chinese declare it is, he will not be likely to resume his old office as interpreter, nor take the general management of the Shanghai jointly with Mr. Doring, Hoo and Chin.

We have again three steamers above and three steamers below the Tientsin Bend. All are waiting for higher water. The highest water in the shallowest part of the river was 10½ feet. Some of the steamers lately seem to get out of the deep water channel and stick tight against the river. It may be that the deep channel has somewhat shifted.

Our export market has become somewhat lively, large quantities of goat and sheep-skins, rugs, wools, furs, etc., are arriving from the interior. Untanned black goat-skins, 40 skins to the picul, have been sold here at Tls. 12.90; 75 skins to the picul at Tls. 15.20 per picul. Yesterday sheep-skins, 44 to the picul, at Tls. 10.60 per picul.

I hear that everything is quiet in Shanang. The late rain was very acceptable, and the cotton crop is reported as large. Cotton is selling with seeds, 120 cash per catty, against 260 cash last year.—Shanghai Mercury.
